

WORLD RACE OF IMMIGRANTS TO U. S. STARTED

Sixteen Shiploads of Foreigners Seeking Entrance to Breast Quota Tape

ELLIS ISLAND GOAL
Inspectors Preparing for Strenuous Work When People Arrive

New York, June 30.—One of the world's greatest races, in which representatives of many races of the world are entrants, will start at midnight tonight, when 16 shiploads of immigrants will rush up New York bay to Ellis island to breast the "quota" tape. There are 13,778 would-be American citizens aboard the 16
ships.

At Ellis Island the great melting pot is in position, while the ladeliers of human flesh and spirit, the immigration inspectors, have girded up their loins for their strenuous work.
The new quota law presents a dramatic, sometimes a pathetic, aspect, for often the first ship in brings enough immigrants from a certain country to fill the year's quota. Others from the same land, arriving only a few hours later on a second ship,
thus may be barred out for the year
and may be forever. Then again
there is the rule that not more than 20 per cent of a country's immigration quota may enter the United States in any one month. This will hold many up for at least a month
and may be more, and may mean
many trips back and forth across the Atlantic before the goal of American citizenship is attained.

Not all are coming in on the ships.
The British applicants, following advice that the accommodations at Ellis Island are not good enough for Britishers, have assembled in Canada
ready for a rush across the border.

The monthly quota for several nations is as follows: Albania 58,
Austria 46, Belgium 313, Bulgaria
12, Egypt 4, Australia 182, Greece 613. This will be the anxiety to be first across
the line in the race for citizenship.
H. Curran, who began his office today, succeeding Immigration Commissioner Tod, who has resigned, is finding his first day's work a strenuous one, but Mr. Tod has promised to stand by and help
him in his baptism of official fire.

Some steamship lines, realizing that New York will be congested,
have diverted the human cargoes to other ports. The Franconia and the Adriatic will go to Boston, the Britannia, from Marseilles, will dock at Providence, and the Norwegian line
has ordered the Bergenfjord into Philadelphia.

THINK POISON PLOT FIGURED IN DEATH

Washington, June 30.—Mrs. Adelina Abing, young and pretty American widow of Cleto M. Abing, well-to-do Filipino, who died a week ago, is being held in the house of detention.

Also held, pending the outcome of an autopsy, is Vincent A. Navarro, 27, a fourth year medical student at George Washington university. He was a boarder at the Abing home.

Abing died at his home in great agony. Dr. H. P. Hornaday, who attended him, told the police he had been called in only 48 hours before the man's death. Another physician, he said, had diagnosed the case as tuberculosis of the intestines, and Hornaday issued a certificate giving that malady as the cause of death.

A few days ago, the police say, they received information "from a reliable source," that Abing's death did not occur from natural causes. As a result the body was exhumed. According to the police, Abing made a will shortly before his death leaving everything to the widow. He was said to be worth about $50,000. Detectives made a thorough search of the premises and later indicated they had uncovered evidence tending to show that Abing's death was under unusual circumstances.

TROOPS ARE MOVED TO TROUBLE CENTER

Oklmulgee, Okla., June 30.—Just as Company F of the 17th Oklahoma
infantry was leaving for home early today orders were received from Oklahoma City for the unit to move immediately to Henrietta, 12 miles south of here, thereby shifting military operations in Governor Walton's "anti mob rule state of martial law" in Oklahoma County. No explanation was given.

Martial law in Oklahoma County, except a small zone near Henrietta was called off yesterday.

WALSKA SINGS WHILE HYPNOTIZED

Ganna Walska.

In the famous old Latin Quarter of Paris, where Svengali hypnotized the heroine of George du Maurier's "Trilby" to make her sing, Mme. Ganna Walska underwent a similar treatment on Monday afternoon before she made her Paris debut in a charity rendition of "Rigoletto," in which she took the role of Gilda, in the Paris Opera House. Auto-suggestion was used by the hypnotist, though her actions on the stage were perfectly normal.

Mme. Walska, who in private life
is Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, wife of the Chicago multi-millionaire, was not favorably received by the audience.

CONSUMPTION OF GOLF BALLS GROWS

Washington, June 30.—The consumption of golf balls in the United States is increasing at the rate of ten per cent annually,
the commerce department announced today.

It is estimated that 12,000,000
golf balls will be used in this country this year, about one-fourth of which will be imported from England and Scotland.

Between September and April
2,000,000 British balls, valued at $800,000 were imported.

TRAIN IS BLOWN UP IN RUHR DISTRICT

Paris, June 30.—At least nine Belgian soldiers were killed and about 25 wounded when a bomb exploded
early today upon a Belgian train between Duisburg and Crefeld, on the northern edge of the Ruhr district.

The explosion took place at 1:30
this morning while the train was crossing a bridge.

A sentry upon the bridge was among the dead.

Paris, June 30.—The French foreign office received word this afternoon that a Belgian train was blown up by a bomb near Duisburg, in the Ruhr. Heavy casualties were reported.

According to a despatch to Lin-transigent, nine persons were killed and 25 wounded. The telegram said that a time bomb had been hidden
in a lavatory in one of the cars
which exploded while the train was enroute.

The first report of the affair had stated that the bomb was exploded
under the train. The cars were filled with Belgian soldiers going home
on furlough.

BELIEVE WHITFIELD MAY TRY SUICIDE

Cleveland, O., June 30.—Ninety hours of hunger strike has considerably weakened John L. Whitfield, to be tried here July 23 for the murder of Patrolman Dennis Griffin, "the authorities said today.

Whitfield even refused water and coffee today upon which he has been sustained since his arrest in Detroit
Tuesday night.

The prosecuting attorney declared
it was "up to Whitfield" whether or not he eats and that for the present
no attempt to forcefully feed him
will be made.

Wild talk of the prisoner indicates he will attempt to cheat the authorities out of a possible judgment in case of conviction. An extra guard was placed outside of Whitfield's cell to stop a feared attempt at suicide.

SAYS BUDGET SYSTEM DOING GOOD WORK

Cleveland, O., June 30.—Estimates
of government expense of twenty-three billion dollars more than was actually appropriated were submitted to Congress between 1890 and 1922, General H. M. Lord, federal director of the budget, told the National Real Estate Board's convention today at the closing session.

"After many expensive extravagant years, the U. S. government, through adoption of the budget system, is keeping its expenditures
within the income," Lord declared.
"We confidently expect to balance
the budget with a surplus of $209,
000,000 for the fiscal year ending
today."

The budget, according to Lord "is
and should be," as impartial as an adding machine. He asserted it has no policies of its own, carrying out
the policies of the President.

FRANCE DISPLEASED WITH THE VATICAN

Rome, June 30.—Relations between France and the Vatican were strained almost to the breaking point today as a result of French displeasure over Pope Pius XI's Ruhr note.
M. Jonnart suddenly cancelled his proposed reception to the Catholic cardinals. This was attributed to the antagonistic attitude of the French government towards the papal note.

It is possible that M. Jonnart may retire as French ambassador to the Vatican.
Many Italian papers praise the note as a favorable move towards settlement of the Ruhr problem.
There is a feeling in Vatican circles
that the note was "interpreted in the wrong spirit."

COLUMBUS BOY WINS.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 30.—The marble championship, like the center
of population and the course of empire, is moving westward and the crown now rests upon the brow of Harlin McCoy, 14, of Columbus. The west was bound to win when the finals of the great "fancy and commie
handicap" was started on the hard sand of the beach. Opposing McCoy was Sammy Schneider, 11, of St.
Louis. Schneider, being younger, was the favorite, but lost.

FINED ON CHARGE OF CUTTING DOWN COON TREE

Samuel Junkins, of Xenia, was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate J.
E. Jones Saturday when he was arraigned on a charge of cutting down a tree and capturing several young coons. The charge was preferred by Greene County Game Protector Karl
Keller, who arrested Junkins near
New Jasper Friday evening.

U. S. FACES SERIOUS CRISIS WITH FOREIGN POWERS OVER LIQUOR

State Department Perturbed Over Attitude of Great Britain Toward American Prohibition Laws —
Government Policy is Unchanged

Washington, June 30.—The United States today faced a serious crisis
with foreign powers over American prohibition laws. The State Department clearly was perturbed over the attitude of Great Britain. The plain warning conveyed by Lord Curzon
that while American seizures of beverage liquors on foreign ships is regular, cannot be condoned with international practice or comity, was the cue for a stir in the entire diplomatic corps.

While the State and Treasury Departments today had only the brief
and seemingly "unimportant protests"
of foreign ship captains whose vessels
had been boarded and liquors seized by government customs officers, foreign embassies and legations were disturbed over the "real purpose" of the American government.

Diplomats in conversations with State Department officials claimed that their governments were in no sense acquiescing in any plan by foreign ship lines to persist in bringing beverage liquors into American territorial waters.

Government officials communicated to leading diplomats informally the impression that the American government would prefer to have trans-Atlantic steamship lines confine their liquor stocks purely to medicinal requirements, until the doubtful issues
now involved can be more clearly defined, either through diplomatic negotiation or by Congress. In the meantime prohibition officials and customs officers are under strict instructions
not to transgress the "rule of reason"

Secretary of State Hughes has left to the Treasury Department entire discretion in the matter of enforcement of the liquor laws aboard foreign ships. Treasury officials today declared that while President Harding,
Secretary Mellon and most of the cabinet are out of Washington, no radical change in government policy affecting foreign relations will take place.

FOUR MEMBERS OF DESTROYER'S CREW KILLED IN BLAST

Newport, R. I., June 30.—Four members of the crew of the U. S. destroyer Williamson were killed in an explosion in her engine room today.
Four others were reported injured.

The Williamson brought the injured men to the Newport naval ship.
The explosion was in the forward engine room.

MISSIONARIES WHO DROWNED IN LAKE WERE KNOWN HERE

Edmund Winters and James A.
Laubach, of Tiffin, missionaries for
the Reformed Church in Yochow, China, who were drowned in a lake-near Yochow a few days ago, were friends of Rev. Alfred Ankeney of west of this city and Mr. Laubach was a classmate of Miss Rachel Ankeney
in Heidelberg College at Tiffin.

Miss Helen Ruff of Barborton, who was engaged to marry Mr. Laubach and had her passport to sail July 6 for China, is an intimate friend of Miss Ankeney. No details of the tragedy have been received, the news having been briefly cabled to this country and all that is known is that the young men both of whom were teachers in Huping College at Yochow, were cruising on the lake when the accident occurred.

AUTO DEALER IS HELD ON CHARGE

Columbus, June 30.—Immediately
upon being released from the county jail today, as a result of habeas corpus proceedings, B. B. Alexander, local auto accessory dealer, was re-arrested
by police in response to an affidavit
filed in municipal court this morning,
accusing him of illegally receiving and concealing surplus war materials in connection with the alleged stealing and grafting of about 1,000,000 worth of these materials from the state fair grounds during the past five years.

The affidavit, filed by the officials,
alleges that Alexander received $500
worth of canvas claimed to have been stolen from the fair grounds. He was released under $5,000 bond, fixed by Municipal Judge Seidel, before whom he will be arraigned Monday.

Columbus, O., June 30.—B. B. Alexander, auto dealer, is held in the county jail here today on $200,000
bond, in connection with the alleged $1,000,000 graft and scandal in the disposal of surplus war material at the state fair grounds.

Alexander is technically charged with embezzlement of state funds.

MASONS TO RAISE HUGE SUM

Cincinnati, O., June 30.—Charles P.
Taft was selected Friday as honorary chairman of the campaign to raise $1,500,000 among the Masons
of Cincinnati for the building of a Scottish Rite Cathedral here at Fifth and Sycamore streets. Taft is one of the oldest Masons in the Middlewest.

MEXICAN WAR VETERAN DEAD.

Napoleon, O., June 30.—Levi Harman, 95, said to be the last survivor of the Mexican war in Ohio is dead
of apoplexy at his home here. He enlisted in the army at the outbreak of the Mexican war in 1846, and saw active service in Mexico with General Winfield Scott. Military service will be conducted at his residence tomorrow.

MINISTER SUED BY WIFE.

Warren, O., June 30.—Rev. John R.
Spillman, pastor of the Methodist episcopal church at Bristolville, near here, is defendant in a suit filed here by his wife, who asks alimony and custody of their four children. The suit charges Spillman was unfaithful.

ARMY AIR CHIEF AIRPLANE PILOT

Major-General Mason Patrick

Major-General Mason M. Patrick,
Chief of the Army Air Service, has just been awarded his double wings
as a qualified airplane pilot, despite the fact that he is 60 years of age.
The majority of airplane officers
are in their early twenties, and it was a belief in the service that older men were not qualified to make good pilots.

RELEASED ON BOND PENDING HEARING OF FEDERAL CHARGE

Bert Blair, arrested Friday by Greene County authorities and turned over to U. S. Deputy Marshall Carson Pratt of Dayton on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition laws, was released under bond of $3,000 when he was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Carl Lenz in Dayton Friday.

Blair's preliminary hearing has been set for July 5, at ten o'clock.
Bond was furnished by J. W. Faulkner, 134 Hill Street, this city, who accompanied Marshall Pratt and Blair to Dayton Friday to be present at the arraignment.

Blair was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs John Baughn and George Spencer Friday as the culmination authorities say, of an investigation lasting several months. Officials allege he has been the ring leader in a liquor trafficking ring in Greene County.

"RABBIT MAN" WILL APPEAL HIS CASE

Attorneys for Irvin N. Laver,
"rabbit man," sentenced to die in the electric chair for the murder of Arthur Moore, 13, a year ago, will appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals Friday upheld the decision of Judge Robert Patterson in passing sentence in Laver Friday. If the supreme court refuses to review the case or upholds the judgment of Judge Patterson an appeal will be made to Governor Donahey.

The boy victim was found in a field
near the National Military Home, May 20, 1922. Death was caused by strangulation. Laver was arrested sometime afterward and confessed.
Later he repudiated the confession
and fought the case. The execution date was fixed as May 25, but later postponed pending litigation.

KILLED WHEN CAR HITS AUTO TRUCK

Toledo, O., June 30.—F. A. Ward, of Fayette, O. was killed and two others badly injured today when a railroad gasoline car on the New York Central collided with a large truck at a crossing in Michigan near here. Ward was driving the gasoline car.

TO HONOR CAMPBELL.

Columbus, June 30.—Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker of Cleveland and former Governor
James M. Cox of Dayton have accepted invitations to attend the dinner to be given at the Scioto Country club Saturday, July 7, complimentary to ex-Governor James E. Campbell, in honor of his eightieth birthday anniversary. Announcement of these acceptances was made. Other men prominent in state and national circles are expected.

WOMAN IS HELD.

Cincinnati, O., June 30.—Mrs. May Griffin, 20, of Cincinnati, was arrested yesterday on a charge of juvenile delinquency, charged by the mother of Charles Davis, 16. Mrs. Griffin is said to have admitted that she and the boy had toured several Ohio
cities in an automobile owned by the boy's mother and to have declared
they would "get married as soon as she could get a divorce from her husband, regardless of what anyone says."

OPEN SHOP IDEA NOT FAVORED BY U. S. PRESIDENT

Harding Serves Notice That
He Will Not Stand for
That as a Plank

Chief Executive Talks Before Crowd in Helena, Mont., Friday.

Gardiner, Mont., June 30.—President Harding has served notice on some of the influential leaders of the Republican party that he, as titular
leader of the party and probable nominee at the next national convention,
will not stand for an "open shop"
plank in the 1924 platform.

This was the interpretation placed today by friends upon the President's remarkable speech last night at Helena, in which he dealt with the capital and labor problem with a great deal more frankness than has characterized his previous utterances upon
this controversial subject.

It is an open secret that the movement for an "open shop" and law and order declaration in next year's Republican platform has gained considerable headway in some influential sections of the party. One of the leaders in this movement has been General Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, and he has been supported by many big manufacturers. During the Harding trip to Florida last spring General
Dawes discussed with the President and with numerous correspondents on numerous occasions. Mr. Harding was noncommittal at that time but in his Helena speech he chose to answer the anti-labor faction of the party and his utterances are expected to act as a decided check on the movement in general.

Helena, Mont., June 30.—President himself in the position of defender of labor in its constant conflict with capital, President Harding delivered here
the most remarkable speech of his entire western trip. He spoke of social justice, women and labor to a crowd of several thousand gathered in Shriners' hall.

The president took the audience
into his confidence by relating numerous instances when he, as president, stopped the employers from reducing wages and making other postwar adjustments which would have been to the laboring class. He also indicated in advance to the mothers of soldiers as to how they should
"on" after their children have returned.

The president reiterated and
expanded the thought recently expressed by him at the white house to effect that if another war should come, all classes, all wealth, all industry should be drafted. He said: "When we do that there will be less of war. When we do that contest will be aglow with unselfish
patriotism, untouched by profits
in any service."

The president dwelt at length upon
the "new woman movement," which reached its climax during the war.
He said he was one of the "old-fashioned people," who would be glad if
the traditional relations of father,
mother, children and home could be maintained. Nevertheless, he said, he rejoiced in woman's new relationship and new activity in all branches of industry. He advised the mothers that their duty to the children does not end when they leave home to attend school, but that they must cooperate with school and college authorities, health and sanitation officials and all other instrumentalities
which society afford in order to equip
the children for the better discharge of their responsibility toward the country.

President as Mediator.

The story of how the president
blocked the efforts of organized capital to disrupt labor organizations was of remarkable interest. The president said that, following the war,
there was some elements which hoped
for "a great and decisive conflict"
between capital and labor, adding:
"On the capital side of the line were
those who had hoped that the administration would lend itself to their program of breaking down organized labor and sending it back to the era
of individual bargaining for the individual jobs. On the labor side of the line were those who hoped, by exorbitant demands and an attitude of uncompromising insistence, to force
the nationalizing of some of our important industries and services. Between these two extreme groups, confident we had behind us the overwhelming public opinion of the nation, we have tried to hold the scales
even to prevent on the one side the destruction of organized labor, and on the other side to frustrate those progressives which looked to the ultimate destruction of private capital
and the nationalization of all the instrumentalities of production."

The president declared the nation
has been saved from the extremists
of both sides; that the demand for labor has increased, unemployment has been wiped out and wages are increasing. Declaring that the present system in Russia is a "colossal failure," the president expressed the opinion that a new Russia undoubtedly is in the making and that "Russia is going to give us a new order of established social order."

REPRESENTATION OF DAYTON ON JULY 4

Dayton, Ohio, June 29—

Floats representing the wars in which the United States has participated will be a spectacular feature of the parade to be given in honor of Hon. Edwin Denby, Secretary of the Navy, upon his visit to Dayton July 4. The parade will start at the Miami Hotel and end at Memorial Hall, where the distinguished member of the Cabinet will unveil a monument to the Spanish-American War Veterans.

The Adjutant General of Ohio has given assurance that state troops will participate in the parade. They will be in full uniform, as will veterans of the Spanish-American War and the Great War. Troops will march to lively music to be played by several bands.

Announcement that the two aerial circuses planned for the afternoon will be consolidated and given at McCook Field is good news to those who were worrying over the matter of transportation to the Wright Field, Majors L. W. McIntosh, commander of McCook Field, and A. W. Robbins, commander of Wright Field, decided that inasmuch as the two shows would be similar, it would be better to give one big circus. As a result, the exhibition at McCook Field, which will start at 8 o'clock, will last until 4:30 or 5 o'clock.

CHURCH IS SEEKING TO TRAIN STEERING GEARS OF AUTOS TO SUNDAY SCHOOL

Training automobile steering gears toward the church is part of a most unique program for the summer campaign in the Ferry Sunday School down in the south end of Greene County. Each Sunday morning has a special feature intended to surprise and interest almost anybody in the session. July 8 is "Automobile Day" when all owners of motor cars are urged to bring their machine full of people for the school session. A copy of a valuable booklet, "Recognized Road Laws" will be presented to each driver of a machine present. The session begins at 9:30 o'clock. Perry Thomas is the superintendent. Rev. Edward D. Gallier is the minister.

FRANK LEAHEY IS STAR OUTFIELDER WITH BAYLIFF TEAM

By Wones
 Frank Bayliff has a real out in Frank Leahey, who plays center field for the Bayliff team. Leahey has all the qualifications of a good gardener, life which enables him to make regular catches, by getting under the ball. He is a fine thrower and has a fine arm. He has a few runners and has stopped many of them from being an extra base or so. When he is playing in center he backs up the right and left fielders in class manner and also is all up behind second base and is to get the catcher's peg in the shortstop or second base should happen to miss it. Last week's game in the seventh inning with a runner on second and out the batsman hit sharply back of the shortstop and a running catch by Leahey retired the side. Had he not caught the ball the runner would have scored and McDonnell would have registered a shutout. Although his batting is not brilliant Leahey generally hits the ball in the singles.

Frank Leahey will be seen in center field Sunday against the Washington C. H. nine. The Bayliffs are counting on another win and if their defense and offense works like it did against the Medway nine the locals will be a mighty hard bunch to stop. The Bayliffs will lineup as follows: Tucker at first, Shuey at second, Furnace at third, Early at short, Leach in left, Leahey in center and Bath or Stiles in right. Bayne will catch while Free will be on the mound.

State of Ohio, Department of Commerce, Division of Insurance, Columbus, March 1, 1923.—As Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Ohio, I hereby certify that the Citizens Insurance Company, located at Hartford, in the State of Connecticut, has complied in all respects with the laws of this State, applicable to it, and is authorized during the current year to transact in this State its appropriate business of insurance as specified in its license. Its condition and business, on the thirty-first day of December of the year next preceding the date hereof, is shown by its statement, required by law, to be as follows: Aggregate amount of available assets, $1,650,000.00; aggregate amount of liabilities (except capital), including re-insurance, reserve, $1,000,000.00; surplus, $650,000.00; amount of income for the year in cash, $1,000,000.00; amount of expenditures for the year in cash, $1,000,000.00.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused my Official Seal to be affixed, the day and year first above written.

TICKERS TO CARRY NEWS OF BIG FIGHT

With several billiard halls and tobacco shops maintaining tickerservice for sport news, Xenia will be taken care of on the results of the Gibbons-Dempsey set-to in Shelby, Moctana, July 4 it is believed.

In former years it has been customary for Xenia fans to obtain the news of big sporting events at the office of The Gazette and The Republican. Because of the installation of a number of tickers this year, unnecessary to follow the usual plan. The news staff will observe the holiday, which is one of two full holidays during the year when no newspaper is published from the plant here.

Fans are assured that the sport department will take care of them on all big sporting events in case in which the public will not be so liberally cared for as in this case.

TIMELY HITTING AND ERATIC FIELDING ENABLES ROTARY TO DEFEAT KIWANIS 31-19

This is the story of a so-called baseball game. It is an attempt to recount the plays and mis-plays, the jagged fielding and bits of brilliancy, the chasing and terrible errors that took place in rapid succession on the Boy Scout diamond, Dods Addition Friday afternoon while the Rotary Club was administering its second defeat in as many years to the Kiwanis Club.

Somebody else should be writing this story. It would take the facilities of a purveyor of fiction, and the matrician rolled into one to do justice to an encounter of such moment. The score reads like the account of a howling match but there were too many players on each side to let the pastime go down as a serious one. Everybody said it was a baseball game so why not the score change your minds, anyway?

The game was played with an indoor baseball, which is a cross between a basketball and an honest-to-goodness diamond horseshoe and even pastimes who had not played since sandlot days were able not only to see but to connect with the oversize sphere with surprising regularity. By arranging his batting order by the heavy hitters at the top, thus getting the hits with men on bases, Captain Leigh M. Nisbet of the Rotarians won the game for his team.

Kiwanians batted with no recognition of the individual hitting ability, and thus while they outthrew the Rotarian passim, many of them went for naught, with no one on the bases. The hitting of Hurley, Belden, Fisher and Murphy for the Rotarians, which included a homerun by Belden, a pair of doubles each by Murphy and Hurley and one two-try by Fisher, featured the attack of the victors. They also performed well in the field with only eight errors credited to them.

Belden, E. Davidson, McKay and Hayward led the attack of the Kiwanis, Belden and McKay each connecting for four hits in six trips to the plate. The Kiwanians' home run rhomboid, which included a homerun by Belden, a pair of doubles each by Murphy and Hurley and one two-try by Fisher, featured the attack of the victors. They also performed well in the field with only eight errors credited to them.

They also performed well in the field with only eight errors credited to them.

The Rotarians started off in the lead. Nisbet popped to E. Davidson, but Belden rashed a double to left. Belden was safe on E. Davidson's error. Hurley scored. Fisher singled. Belden taking third from where he scored on Murphy's single. Fisher was caught at the plate on Stout's tap and McClellan skied to Myers. The Kiwanians scored once. Belden was safe when Nisbet muffed his grounder and Messenger advanced him with a sacrifice fly to Stout. Belden tossed out E. Davidson. Belden scoring after taking third on a passed ball. Myers walked.

HUGHES-EDISON WEDDING

SOLEMNIZED IN YELLOW SPRINGS
Miss Esther Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes, of Yellow Springs, became the bride of Mr. Austin Glenwood Edison, of Kankakee, Illinois, with an impressive ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents, at South College Corry Streets, Yellow Springs, Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

Providing the late June weather proved favorable, the ceremony was planned to take place on the front lawn of the Hughes home. A mass of rambler roses was chosen for the setting of the service, the vivid flowers to be combined with large baskets of daisies.

The bride's uncle, the Rev. C. E. Hall of Cleveland, a Methodist Episcopal minister, performed the ceremony. The officiating clergyman, with a group of young women and men, stood at the improvised altar, awaiting the entrance of the bride party. The group of girls was composed of Mrs. John G. Eavey, Xenia, Miss Mildred Stewart, Yellow Springs, Miss Dorothy Drake, Springfield, Miss Marion Whiting, Yellow Springs, Miss Florence Welch, Yellow Springs, Miss Eleanor Littleton, Yellow Springs, Mrs. Donald Vance, Cleveland, Miss Vandale Hughes, Yellow Springs, Miss Marguerite Ralls, Xenia, the Misses Esther and Lucille Corry, Miss William Ralston, Yellow Springs, and Mrs. Paul Freeze, Dayton.

Each of the girls wore frocks of Canton crepe in rainbow colors, fashioned along bouffant lines, and carried huge armfuls of daisies.

On the other side of the bowler, a group of men stood in attendance, including Messrs. Arthur Zoig, Dayton, Marion Richardson, New Weston, Ohio, Robert Ralls, Xenia, Lynn Forthup and Dwight Northup, Yellow Springs, Ernest Henderson, Dayton, Iowa.

Miss Clara Zell, of Yellow Springs, maid of honor, wore a frock of rich colored crepe de Chine, and carried an armful of daisies. Mr. Herman Whitacre, of Hamilton, acted as best man.

The bride and bridegroom entered together. The bride's dress was fashioned of white satin, along simple lines, with the long waist effect, and an overdress of crystal beads. Her tulle veil was arranged fan-shaped at the crown of her hair, held with a band of orange blossoms. Her outfit was of white, and she carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bridal party took its place in front of the Rev. Mr. Hall, who performed the ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony Miss Marie Drake, of Yellow Springs played "To a Wild Rose," blending into the Lohengrin wedding march, playing softly during the ceremony. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Miss Drake at the close of the ceremony.

The wedding was witnessed by about thirty-five relatives and friends of the couple. Following the ceremony the guests were received at a formal reception at the Hughes' home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison left Saturday evening for Chicago, and other points in Illinois, where they will visit before returning to reside in Yellow Springs. Mrs. Edison wore a traveling costume of gray crepe, with other gray accessories.

Mr. Edison is connected at Antioch College as instructor in chemistry. Out of town guests at the wedding, in addition to those who were members of the bridal party, were the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Hall, Cleveland, Mrs. George Paxton, Springfield, and Miss Pauline Sutton, Dayton.

CHILDREN RECOVER FROM OPERATIONS PERFORMED HERE

Twenty-seven children of families living in various parts in the county, were thankful to the officials of the Greene County Red Cross and county medical talent Saturday for affording them means of getting a healthy start in life.

Being acquainted with the dangers wrought by diseased tonsils and adenoids, and realizing that many of the families could not afford the operations, the county chapter of the Red Cross, sponsored the second tonsillectomy clinic, held at the American Legion rooms, in this city, Thursday and Friday.

After receiving the kindest attention from the doctors and nurses during their operations, the children were all returned to their homes in the evening, following the ordeal, and are recovering splendidly, according to Red Cross officials.

Warmly wrapped, and escorted in machines, the children journeyed to their homes over the county, and were none the worse for their experience, Saturday.

A group of youngsters from Yellow Springs, were able to troop walking up the streets of the villages to their homes, after leaving the traction car Friday evening. Each child was wrapped in a blanket. The children operated on Thursday and Friday, were from Fairfield, Yellow Springs, Jamestown, Cedarville, Bowersville, Spring Valley, New Jasper, Beaver Creek Township, Caesar Creek Township and Xenia.

CONFUSION RESULTS IN CONTRACT FOR DEMPSEY-GIBBONS

Great Falls, Mont., June 30.—Chaos again reigned today in the little town where froths the row over the proposed Dempsey-Gibbons world heavyweight championship bout, now scheduled for next Wednesday.

Following announcement that $50,000 of the last $100,000 payment to Dempsey was ready in cash and that the remaining half had been pledged, lawyers early today scanned the contract signed by Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, and Montana promoters and declared it to be their belief that it is illegal, that Dempsey must box Tom Gibbons even if no further payment is made, and that if he fails to do so, he must forfeit $50,000 to the promoters.

Not only did the lawyers declare their belief in these matters but they expressed the opinion that if Dempsey packs his things and takes it on the run from Montana, he will forfeit his heavyweight championship to Gibbons because of the terms of the contract.

To add to the confusion, there came just after midnight a split between factions which heretofore had been working together to put the fight across. Earlier the leader in the arrangements and financial efforts had been George Stanton, Great Falls banker, who had worked with Loy L. Molumby and Jim Johnson, original promoters and Judge Roy Ayers and Senator James Lane. During the night, L. C. Stevenson stepped into the affair and very shortly afterward stepped right out of it and began to put on a little show of his own. It was at Stevensons for Stevenson, millionaire oil man, who discovered the so-called flaw in the original Dempsey-Gibbons contract.

The thing that roused Stevenson, he said, was the fact that his name appeared on list of those who Stanton said would subscribe $5,000 each to insure the final $50,000. Stevenson bitterly repudiated this and declared he did not intend to contribute a single dollar towards soothing and sustaining the fistie enterprise.

Aroused by what he termed the "pound-of-flesh" attitude of Kearns, Stevenson called for a copy of the contract, gathered his attorneys, burned much midnight oil and came to the conclusions stated previously.

And so when daylight hit the sage brush today, Montana's battle of a century was in a tangled situation—so tangled that none would take a chance and predict what might happen in each succeeding hour.

Several things may happen, among them the possibility that Tom Gibbons may contend that he has been damaged by mismanagement of the bout and refuse to appear in the ring. If he does, Kearns has an easy "out" for the contract specifically provides that if for any reason Gibbons fails to appear, Kearns may name a substitute, to the point of picking Dempsey's sarring partner for an exhibition.

Here is the contract clause upon which Jack Kearns stands in his contention that Montana promoters must pay him another $100,000 or lose the $20,000 they have already posted as a guarantee to Jack Dempsey before the latter enters the ring with Tom Gibbons.

"It is agreed that should the Shelby Athletic club fail to meet any of the payments when due, then and in that case any sums of money already paid to Jack Dempsey by the Shelby Athletic club shall become the property of Jack Dempsey and said payment shall be deemed as liquidated damages."

And here is the clause which lawyers say makes Dempsey liable if he declines to go through with the fight:

"It is agreed that if Dempsey fails to appear for said contest that he shall forfeit to the Shelby Athletic club $50,000 as liquidated damages and return all monies advanced to him by the Shelby Athletic club."

IMPROVEMENT OF SPRINGFIELD PIKE EXPECTED TO START IN NEAR FUTURE

Immediate improvement of the Springfield-Xenia pike with reinforced concrete will follow action of the Federal Bureau of Good Roads officially endorsing this type of paving, it is said.

Action of the Federal Bureau brings to an end the controversy over the type of paving to be used, which began with the opposition to concrete set up by Congressman Charles Brand of Urbana. Brand held he was acting in accordance with wishes of the County Commissioners of Greene and Clark Counties. Greene County Commissioners have never announced a fixed stand on the paving type, it is said.

Approval of the type of paving will mean that the contracting companies theoretically, will begin the paving

DODDS COMPANY FURNISHES PART OF MEMORIAL TABLET

The George Dodds and Sons Granite Company of this city furnished the pedestal and bronze lettering for the statue placed at Memorial Hall, Dayton, as a memorial to Spanish-American War Veterans, which will be unveiled at special ceremonies July 4 by Secretary of the Navy Edwin L. Denby.

The statue itself is a bronze replica of a soldier with a rifle, and was designed by Mrs. Theodore Ruggles Ritson, a sculptress of international fame, and cast by The Gorham Company. Arrangements for the statue were made before the committee consulted with the Xenia Company, which also furnished bronze work.

Work on the pedestal was done by the Dodds Company at the Xenia plant, the pedestal being cut from Milford Pink granite and weighing six tons when finished. The Company here lettered the pedestal in bronze as follows: "Erected to Spanish War Veterans, 1898-1902." The pedestal and statue were put in position Friday.

MONEY ORDERED PAID BY COURT

Columbus, O., June 30.—Common Pleas Judge Sowers today granted a peremptory writ of mandamus required by Attorney General Crabbe, ordering State Finance Director Baker to certify immediately to the state auditor a warrant for $187.50 due Attorney H. H. Griswold, former speaker of the House and now a special counsel in the office of the attorney general. The money constitutes Attorney Griswold's salary for the last two weeks of June.

Payment to Griswold was held up pending investigation of claims that he owed the state more than $500 which had been paid in advance as his salary while a member of the state legislature. The attorney general argued that the finance director had no power to hold up the salary of a state official; that his jurisdiction consisted merely in an examination as to the legality of payment, and whether the money was available.

SITE SOUGHT FOR Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Although he did not deny that a proposition had been made to him to sell his farm, four miles northeast of Xenia, on the Cedarville pike, to the Springfield Y. M. C. A. as a site for a permanent camp, Paul James said Friday night that there was no information regarding the matter to be given out at this time. He said that no contract for the sale had been made nor agreement reached between himself and "Y" officials. The farm consists of more than one hundred acres and is beautifully situated in a spot that would make an ideal place for a camp.

BRUISED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. A. C. Messenger, 705 North King Street, was bruised when the Packard coupe in which she was riding with Dr. A. C. Messenger and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Leslie, Springfield, was struck by another automobile near Hawker's bridge, Dayton pike, Friday evening. Others in the party were unhurt. The automobile owned by Mr. Leslie was damaged but the damage is covered by insurance.

DANGER IN STUBBORN COUGH

Stubborn coughs that hang on are liable to lead to serious complications and should be checked promptly with Foley's Honey and Tar. "I have not coughed since taking Foley's Honey and Tar. DARTS ARE HURLED BY DRY LEAGUE MEN AT MAYOR Westerville, O. June 29.—Oral darts saturated with sarcasm were hurled at Mayor John F. Hylan, New York City, here today by leaders of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

This joint verbal onslaught was promoted by declarations penned by the mayor, in letters to William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York and to Palmer Canfield, prohibition director of New York that neither federal agents nor the Anti-Saloon League leaders want the Volstead act enforced, that "if prohibition was a reality, Anti-Saloon Leaguers would be obliged to go to work, instead of collecting money from honest intended contributors, and living high," and that the "purpose of the Anti-Saloon League is to keep its officers on the payroll."

"Hylan's talk sounds more like that of a backwoods justice of the peace than of the mayor of the greatest city in the world," declared Dr.

The pike is approximately 18 miles long and will cost $298,000. Of this amount the Greene County work will cost approximately $135,000 which, in round figures, is the bid of Lewis and Copeland. The remaining $163,000 will be applied to the work in Clark County. Action of the Federal Bureau of Good Roads in approving reinforced concrete and thus permitting the work to be let, was hurried, it is believed, in order to complete the action before the expiration of the term of Leon C. Herrick, state highway director. L. A. Boulay, Democrat, of Toledo, appointed by Governor Donahey succeeds to the office Sunday. It was feared he might delay the work.

The contract for the Lewis and Copeland Company specified one section of the paving is to be completed September 15, and the other section November 1. Officials in the County Surveyor's office however, expressed the belief the work could not be finished then if started at once. They pointed out that Lewis and Copeland have previous contracts for road work calling for nearly two years work. One contract, they say, was entered into last summer and the work has not yet been started.

Unless the Lima contractors disregarded older contracts and give the Greene County job priority, the work cannot be started this summer, it is said. That the Lima company is planning such a move is indicated by the fact that it has been announced work will start in ten days.

MRS. PINCHOT BACK FROM TRIP TO EUROPE.

Mrs. Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, is just home from Europe. She says:

"I have returned after a very short trip to Europe. I went to attend the Suffrage Congress in Rome and afterward made a brief motor trip in Italy.

"Of course it is impossible to have any political or economic views, except superficial, after such a brief sojourn. It strikes me as presumptuous to be in a country a few weeks, and then discuss the definite solution of its grave problems.

"The visitor to America who tells us all about America before he has landed, has a counterpart now in those Americans who these days go abroad and after a few weeks return to tell us all about Europe and have an easy solution to its complex problems.

"The Suffrage Congress at Rome was very impressive; women of forty-two nations were present, and I was very much gratified at the honor of being elected an officer.

"Of course, the problems of the women of Europe as discussed at Rome are in many respects identical with our own.

"In other respects they are fundamentally different. But they are working on their problems with a broad viewpoint and with a toleration that is surprising. For instance, at the Rome Congress the French and German women discussed similar problems and respected each other's viewpoint. From what I saw in Italy, I would say that Italy is hard at work, she is entering into a period of prosperity, and is entirely on the high road to recovery from the war period. Certainly from what I saw on my motor trip, I should say that Italy, both agriculturally and industrially, is hard at work.

It is evident that in Central Europe matters are chaotic. Anarchy, fears and disturbances growing out of the war are on the order of the day. The Four Horsemen are still riding there. To round up these wild horses, mixing a Biblical quotation, and to turn these horses into plow horses, is the greatest problem abroad. Certainly well wishing and words alone are not going to do the job."

MR. HARDING'S APPEAL.

The President's World Court speech in St. Louis offers the President a new branch to the Senate. Where Woodrow Wilson made demands Warren G. Harding makes concessions before battle is joined. His is a plain offer of compromise to all phases of American opinion on the court, other than the irreconcilables of the Borah-Moses school.

There was no fight in this soft, fair-spoken address. Friends of a strong world tribunal and the League of Nations are disappointed. They fear the President may be trading away the substance of the court for its name and form and shadow. He appears willing to agree to almost anything so long as we may enter the court and at the same time lessen League influence on it.

Nor has he lessened the Bitter-Enders' bitterness. They are ready to hail this as a sign of weakness and wavering, as evidence of internal war and threats in his own party are whittling away the President's determination. Soft words and offered compromise will not soften their hearts or turn aside their blows.

On the Democrats the effect of the new Harding position is, yet, uncertain. He must rely upon Democratic votes for the court. They were willing to take the Hughes reservations. There is, however, a campaign at hand, and only the forays and fighting in next winter's Senate can determine whether the Democrats will accept the new Harding reservations.

The President's speech is significant, but it is not the last word. We are in no more than the thin edge of the fight. The issue must be discussed. It is by continuing debate and every effort to reach a free nation makes up its mind and comes to a decision. To that national debate, which must go on for some time, the St. Louis speech is a contribution.

NO NO LONGER PLAYTHING.

Any boy can sit down at a table in his own home and play with his toys. Boys in Iowa, Pennsylvania and other states are no longer playthings. They are now men, and in the near future, with other nations, they will be more interested in that than in the pool table.

It was considered more as a plaything for the young men of the past except when it was used by government. Now it is almost a household word and a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men.

It is a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men. It is a part of the present generation of young men.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Day

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time, and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried different medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat better and could sleep, and consider it a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it."

It is such letters as these that testify to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This woman speaks from the fullness of her heart. She describes as correctly as she can her condition, first the symptoms that bothered her the most, and later the disappearance of those symptoms. It is a sincere expression of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

REDUCTION WARNINGS

Suppose you weigh 180 pounds at about 40 years and your ideal weight dangers, though easily avoided ones.

In one way or another we have talked the need of reducing—for who wants to be fat these active days? But we haven't talked much about the dangers of reducing. For there are according to insurance tables should be 135 or so. And suppose you have been fat for a good many years. Well, all these delicately adjusted organs inside the stomach and abdomen, organs of digestion, liver, kidneys, and so on, are held in place by this great amount of fat. (Of course they're held too, by the natural structure of the body.) Now, if you lose this flesh too suddenly, there's danger that some of these organs may grow slightly out of place—this is very untechnical; a physician will give it to you with proper detail; I merely want to make my point as briefly as possible.

But slow reduction will do away with this danger—say two pounds off each week, and exercise will strengthen the body so that the muscles and cords and so on, will hold properly. Drastic reduction, too, upsets the digestion. I know of one case where a woman took almost nothing but acids to reduce, and so ruined her stomach that it would not take proper food when she tried to eat normally again. She went down five or more pounds a week, and looked 70 when she was only 40. But she was foolish about reduction. Two pounds a week is a safe rate.

Thelma—Your hair is merely changing to a darker shade, and if it still retains the reddish tinge it should be more suited to you now than the earlier and lighter shades. SOUND MERCHANDIZING PRINCIPLES NECESSARY IN MARKETING CROPS

"When the time comes that farmers can have a voice in what their produce brings on the open market it will be because they have applied the same sound marketing and merchandizing principles that have brought success in other lines of business," declared Walton P. Peet, Marketing Specialist for the American Farm Bureau Federation speaking before the Extension and Farm Bureau workers of Ohio at Wooter last Wednesday. County Agent Ford S. Prince attended the meeting.

These principles are, standardization of farm products, proper distribution, searching new markets and new usage for products, extending the time of selling and not dumping the farmers' produce on the market all at one time.

"Co-operative marketing," said Mr. Peet, "means orderly merchandizing and not dumping." Some system must be worked out where by our great staple crops such as wheat, need not be thrown into the market all in one or two months," he stated. Consumption is annual while production is seasonal and these two facts must be met by farmers marketing organizations.

"Proper credit facilities and state and national cooperative marketing laws have recently been set up whereby farmers may warehouse and market their crops in an orderly manner, without any opposition from anyone except themselves.

"There is no crop marketed in Ohio which has not been marketed successfully by co-operative organizations in other states," said Mr. Peet, "and with the start which has already been made in marketing livestock, grain, fruit, tobacco, milk and cream and other Ohio crops it need only be a short time until better financial conditions of farmers may be brought about."

"Up to the present time the co-operative organizations in Ohio have only been able to make good sales on bad markets," said M. D. Lincoln, Executive Secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, speaking before the Extension Conference.

"Our aim is to get such a volume of business and a bargaining power so great that we will be able to have good markets and make good sales on them," he said.

The necessary steps for Ohio folks to take in order to avail themselves of our laws and rural credit facilities, said Mr. Lincoln, are:

1. Organize uniform types of farmers sales companies, with a stock corporation to hold the physical property and have the business controlled by actual producers signed up on binding valid contracts to deliver their products.

2. Employ the highest type of expert to handle the business.

3. Have an effective field service to keep producers informed and to instruct the managers.

4. Finance the organizations properly, with binding producer contracts under a valid law we can secure adequate credit to manage this vast business from land banks and other governmental agencies declared Mr. Lincoln.

He predicted that the time would come soon when all the important commodities would be organized on the producers contract basis similar to the dairy contract now in force in Greene and surrounding counties.

HOLD DEMONSTRATION

A fireless cooker demonstration will be held at Beavercreek High School Tuesday afternoon. Women of the township are invited to attend the meeting.

A similar demonstration will be held in Xenia township the meeting not having been held.

WHEAT CROP IS GOOD LOCAL AGENT AVERS

A few wheat fields in Greene County have been "opened" the first two or three rounds of the binder having been driven and in a few days wheat cutting will be underway in many sections.

The majority of the wheat now is too green for harvesting.

The wheat crop is a good one this year, according to farmers, and if the price reaches the proper level, will be sold at a profit by farmers.

FARMERS ARRANGING FOR SPECIAL MEETING IN COLUMBUS IN JULY

A special mid-summer meeting of farmers and farm bureau members from all parts of Ohio will be held in Columbus. The announcement of this meeting was made by officials of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation following the meeting of the Federation's executive committee in Columbus last week. Tentative dates set are July 23 and 24.

Everyone of the 88 county farm bureaus will be asked to send one or more representatives to this meeting according to the announcement. The gathering is called because of the rapid development of the co-operative marketing program and other projects of the Federation and will be held to get the assistance of farmers in all parts of the state in making plans for future co-operative effort.

Among the subjects to be discussed at the coming meeting are marketing contracts for producers organization of co-operative marketing associations under the new co-operative law, development of plans for the use of credit through the Federal loan system, and affiliation of co-operative marketing groups and farm bureaus.

W. B. Bryson, president of the Greene County Farm Bureau, Geo. W. Glass, vice president and other Farm Bureau officials will probably attend the meeting.

WHEN FARMING PAYS

An Analysis of the Economic, Political and Social Conditions Which Make Farming Profitable

By Leonard P. Bennett

The Fourth of July is usually one day in the midst of a busy season which the farmer takes off. Ball games, greased pigs, three-legged races, and fireworks relieve the monotony of daily toil in the fields. Fourth of July is celebrated not simply because the colonies declared their independence on that date, but also because people periodically need a day of rest and relaxation. The hand worker needs variation and diversion as well as the brain worker. The farmer works both with his hand and his brain and has the more reason to celebrate the "glorious" Fourth.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that Americans consumed four billion bottles of soft drinks last year. One large bottling concern disposes of 150,000 to 175,000 bottles per day. Many soft drink manufacturers, who started buoyantly after the prohibition law went into effect, have succumbed during the past few years, largely because their special drinks were of a very inferior character. Some are prospering. It is to be hoped that the country will some day find its soft drinks as palatable, refreshing and revivifying as a large element has found spirituous liquors.

ROAD MATERIALS

The popularity of the various types of road material used in this country is indicated by the following percentages for Federal aid roads:

Gravel, 39.1 per cent.
Graded and drained, 20.6 per cent.
Cement concrete, 18.3 per cent.
Sand clay, 10.8 per cent.
Bituminous macadam, 4.0 per cent.
Bituminous concrete, 3.1 per cent.

Water-bound macadam, 2.7 per cent.

Brick, 1.4 per cent.

The figures are fairly representative, as 25,000 miles of Federal-aid roads are in use, but complete figures would doubtless show higher percentages of the lower type roads.

The Michigan farmer swears by a well built gravel road, while in every state the dirt road, properly graded and drained, is found highly satisfactory except when drought is so prolonged as to cause a heavy accumulation of dust or when wet weather turns the road into mud.

The hard-surfaced, all weather road is the road of the future. Cement concrete has made some excellent roads. A tar preparation as binding and covering vastly improves a crushed stone road. The older type of macadam road is falling into disuse because of the chuck holes which form in it and the effect of coarse, sharp stone on rubber tires.

The future conceivably may bring some new road building materials and a decided improvement in road construction. Durability is sure to increase, and perhaps cost of construction will decrease. Cost of maintenance will decrease with an increase in serviceability.

TILLERS OF THE SOIL

Half of the world's workers till the soil, according to figures of the department of Agriculture. These figures apply to female workers, as well as male, but do not include the large agricultural populations of Russia, China, Serbia, Hungary, Argentine and Brazil.

SUGGEST NEW WAY TO CONSTRUCT FIRELESS COOKERS AT HOME

What is said to be a cheaper and better way to make fireless cookers at home has been developed by farm wives in Champaign County. Instead of using wooden boxes for the outside container, both the outer and inner container are made of lard tins.

For the outer holder, use a 50-pound tin; for the inner, a 25-pound tin. The second is placed in the first and the space between packed tightly with excelsior, paper scraps, ground cork, or a similar insulating material.

Then the cooker is taken to a tinner and a tin "collar" is soldered on to cover the insulating material between the big and little buckets. A handy man on a farm with a well equipped shop can do this as well as a tinner can.

The idea developed in Champaign County during progress there of the fireless cooker project, by which the state agricultural extension service is helping spread home-made cookers to farmsteads all over the state. C. R. Shumway agricultural agent in this county, developed another new idea when instead of making the usual "pillow" to fit under the cover at the top of the cooker, he simply cut an inch board the proper size and shape and used that.

The board "pillow" seems to hold in the head as well as one of cloth, says Geneva M. Bane, specialist in home management at the Ohio State University, who is running the fireless cooker popularization project. And, she adds it is more sanitary.

Such a cooker costs less than $1.50 even when you have to buy the lard tins.

POULTRY PRODUCERS SEEKING TO MARKET PRODUCT IN NEW WAY

Formation of the "Ohio Co-operative Dairy Poultry Producers", as non-profit membership association, has been recommended by a special committee of poultry producers appointed by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. The new association is recommended as a co-operative sales agency to serve poultry and egg producers of the state in getting their products to market through co-operative channels. It will probably be formed under Ohio's new co-operative marketing law, which takes effect next month.

While complete plans have not yet been made for the formation of the association a number of recommendations as to method of operation have been made by the committee. The consignment system of handling eggs and poultry is favored. Strict grading of eggs, and packing according to these grades is strongly urged. It is expected that the eggs from local association of producers over the state will be gathered at convenient shipping points and graded by an expert grader before sale.

The contract system between the individual producer and the sales agency will probably be used. Among the provisions which are to be put in, are that only infertile eggs will be sold through the co-operative during warm weather. All eggs going through the co-operative sales agency must be clean, unwashed eggs, collected twice daily and kept in a cool place. A penalty is suggested for breaking provisions of the contract.

A special group from the committee is now working on plans for organization of the association and preparing constitution and form of contract. The association is being formed so that it may be affiliated with the co-operative efforts of poultry producers of states adjoining Ohio, or those who are using the same markets. It follows general plans outlined at a recent national conference held in Chicago.

Plans of Greene County Farm Bureau officials, concerning the marketing of eggs are as yet vague but something definite will be outlined in the near future, according to County Agent Prince.

SWAT THE ROOSTER IN JUNE SAY EXPERTS IN POULTRY RAISING

As soon as the thermometer crawls above the 70-mark, fertile eggs begin to incubate, and at temperatures between 80 and 100 degrees they deteriorate rapidly. Infertile eggs keep far better in warm weather, and on practically every large poultry farm it is now common practice to "swat" the rooster late in June, or early in July, and to market infertile eggs.

This is just as good practice for the farmer with a few chickens as for the large poultry-raiser who has thousands, continue poultrymen at the Ohio State University, and egg dealers are echoing the thought. A rooster in the summer makes a fine Sunday dinner, they say, while alive and strutting, it is worse than useless.

If you have some roosters that look exceptionally good, so good that you want to keep them as breeders for the following year, then the thing to do is to confine them separately away from the flock of layers. Poultry scientists long ago found that the male bird has no influence on the number of eggs a hen will lay, but merely makes these eggs fertile.

MRS. PINCHOT BACK FROM TRIP TO EUROPE.

Mrs. Pinchot, wife of the Governor of Pennsylvania, is just home from Europe. She says:

"I have returned after a very short trip to Europe. I went to attend the Suffrage Congress in Rome and afterward made a brief motor trip in Italy.

"Of course it is impossible to have any political or economic views, except superficial, after such a brief sojourn. It strikes me as presumptuous to be in a country a few weeks, and then discuss the definite solution of its grave problems.

"The visitor to America who tells us all about America before he has landed, has a counterpart now in those Americans who these days go abroad and after a few weeks return to tell us all about Europe and have an easy solution to its complex problems.

"The Suffrage Congress at Rome was very impressive; women of forty-two nations were present, and I was very much gratified at the honor of being elected an officer.

"Of course, the problems of the women of Europe as discussed at Rome are in many respects identical with our own.

"In other respects they are fundamentally different. But they are working on their problems with a broad viewpoint and with a toleration that is surprising. For instance, at the Rome Congress the French and German women discussed similar problems and respected each other's viewpoint. From what I saw in Italy, I would say that Italy is hard at work, she is entering into a period of prosperity, and is entirely on the high road to recovery from the war period. Certainly from what I saw on my motor trip, I should say that Italy, both agriculturally and industrially, is hard at work.

It is evident that in Central Europe matters are chaotic. Fears and disturbances growing out of the war are on the minds of the people. The Four Horsemen are still riding there. To round up wild horses, mixing a Biblical quotation, and to turn these wild horses into plow horses, is the greatest problem abroad. Certainly well wishing and words alone are not going to do the job."

MR. HARDING'S APPEAL.

The President's World Court speech in St. Louis offers the new branch to the Senate. Where Woodrow Wilson made demands Warren G. Harding makes concessions before battle is joined. His is a plain offer of compromise to all phases of American opinion on the court, other than the irreconcilables of the Borah-Moses school.

There was no fight in this soft, fair-spoken address. Friends of a strong world tribunal and the League of Nations are disappointed. They fear the President may be trading away the substance of the court for its name and form and shadow. He appears willing to agree to almost anything so long as we may enter the court and at the same time lessen League influence on it.

Nor has he lessened the Bitter-Enders' bitterness. They are ready to hail this as a sign of weakness and wavering, as evidence of internal war and threats in his own party are whittling away at the President's determination. Soft words and offered compromise will not soften their hearts or turn aside their blows.

On the Democrats the effect of the new Harding position is, as yet, uncertain. He must rely upon Democratic votes for the court. They were willing to take the Hughes reservations. There is, however, a campaign at hand, and only the forays and fighting in next winter's Senate can determine whether the Democrats will accept the new Harding reservations.

The President's speech is significant, but it is not the last word. We are in no more than the thin edge of the fight. The issue will be discussed. It is by continuing debate and every effort that a free nation makes up its mind and comes to a decision. To that national debate, which must go on for years, the St. Louis speech is a contribution.

NO NO LONGER PLAYTHING.

Any boy can sit down at a table in his own home and play with his toys. Boys in Iowa, Pennsylvania and other states are doing this. The near future, with other nations, he is more interested in that than in the pool.

It was considered more as a plaything for the young than as a serious matter. It is almost a household word and the present generation of young men, with their radios, broadcasting stations, etc., in a way that they do not understand.

Reaching every nook and corner of the country, it is one of the greatest civilizing influences of the age.

He talks about radio. He is interested in it.

REDUCTION WARNINGS

Suppose you weigh 180 pounds at about 40 years and your ideal weight, though easily avoided ones.

In one way or another we have talked the need of reducing—for who wants to be fat these active days? But we haven't talked much about the dangers of reducing. For there are according to insurance tables should be 135 or so. And suppose you have been fat for a good many years. Well, all these delicately adjusted organs inside the stomach and abdomen, organs of digestion, liver, kidneys, and so on, are held in place by this great amount of fat. (Of course they're held too, by the natural structure of the body.) Now, if you lose this flesh too suddenly, there's danger that some of these organs may grow slightly out of place—this is very untechnical; a physician will give it to you with proper detail; I merely want to make my point as briefly as possible.

But slow reduction will do away with this danger—say two pounds off each week, and exercise will strengthen the body so that the muscles and cords and so on, will hold properly. Drastic reduction, too, upsets the digestion. I know of one case where a woman took almost nothing but acids to reduce, and so ruined her stomach that it would not take proper food when she tried to eat normally again. She went down five or more pounds a week, and looked 70 when she was only 40. But she was foolish about reduction. Two pounds a week is a safe rate.

Thelma—Your hair is merely changing to a darker shade, and if it still retains the reddish tinge it should be more suited to you now than the earlier and lighter shades. There is nothing to gain by using the evelase tonic twice as often as prescribed. Simply follow the directions and you will soon note an improvement.

In the case of a number of girls asking boys to accompany them on a hike and a picnic, the girls would prepare for the lunch, and leave an opportunity open for the boys to add anything to the day's pleasures as the occasion demands.

Anna H.—At five feet five inches, at 22 years of age you should weigh between 125 to 130 pounds. The circles under your eyes indicate that there is some internal disturbance. It may only be the liver, but it shows that there is enough wrong to warrant your having the doctor look after the condition.

Sulphur—The blood tonic is made by mixing any quantity of flour of sulphur with enough molasses to form it into a paste, the latter only intended as a convenient medium for carrying the sulphur.

Dose is a full teaspoonful three times a day for three days, and then rest for three days. Repeat this, taking and resting alternately, until 27 doses have been taken. Stop then for several weeks before taking it again.

COULD HARDLY DO HER WORK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Eat, Sleep and Feel Better Every Way

Chicago, Ill.—"I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time, and dizzy, and could not sleep and had no appetite. I tried different medicines for years, but they did not help me. Then I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for other women and gave it a trial. I began to eat better and could sleep, and consider it a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to my friends and will never be without it."

—Mrs. M. O'Brien, 3640 S. Marshfield Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

It is such letters as these that testify to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This woman speaks from the fullness of her heart. She describes as correctly as she can her condition, first the symptoms that bothered her the most, and later the disappearance of those symptoms. It is a sincere expression of gratitude.

For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

Today's Talk

ON UTTERING YOURSELF

We are all of us a mixture of the world.

Even the glance of our eyes—just the minute that they touch the sphere of beauty or interest—immediately possesses new wealth.

The handclasp of friends is a touch of warmth.

Our ideas and ideals are made up from much moving about and seeing into things. We read and take upon ourselves the thought, in some form or other, of him who wrote. Even the smile of the stranger is something that we come to make our own.

So that when you utter yourself, you give expression to something of all that you have read, seen, heard—or lived.

Much as we would like to be an expression entirely of ourselves, it is impossible. For we are already a part of all that we have met—and this applies to people of our kind. We have learned to be kinder from this one, to be more tolerant from that one, and to be MORE from the fine example of someone else.

Each one of us is constantly learning.

All of us feel much happy people around us—even with flowers, rocks, books, anything contributes to our stimulation.

No day is so dull or uninteresting but we gain something from even unconsciously take up ourselves much of what we are.

But when you utter yourself, you give out your world and all that you have seen and loved in it.

SOUND MERCHANDIZING PRINCIPLES NECESSARY IN MARKETING CROPS

"When the time comes that farmers can have a voice in what their produce brings on the open market it will be because they have applied the same sound marketing and merchandizing principles that have brought success in other lines of business," declared Walton P. Peet, Marketing Specialist for the American Farm Bureau Federation speaking before the Extension and Farm Bureau workers of Ohio at Wooter last Wednesday. County Agent Ford S. Prince attended the meeting.

These principles are, standardization of farm products, proper distribution, searching new markets and new usage for products, extending the time of selling and not dumping the farmers produce on the market all at one time.

"Co-operative marketing," said Mr. Peet, "means orderly merchandizing and not dumping." Some system must be worked out where by our great staple crops such as wheat, need not be thrown into the market all in one or two months," he stated. Consumption is annual while production is seasonal and these two facts must be met by farmers marketing organizations.

"Proper credit facilities and state and national cooperative marketing laws have recently been set up whereby farmers may warehouse and market their crops in an orderly manner, without any opposition from anyone except themselves.

"There is no crop marketed in Ohio which has not been marketed successfully by co-operative organizations in other states," said Mr. Peet, "and with the start which has already been made in marketing livestock, grain, fruit, tobacco, milk and cream and other Ohio crops it need only be a short time until better financial conditions of farmers may be brought about."

"Up to the present time the co-operative organizations in Ohio have only been able to make good sales on bad markets," said M. D. Lincoln, Executive Secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, speaking before the Extension Conference.

"Our aim is to get such a volume of business and a bargaining power so great that we will be able to have good markets and make good sales on them," he said.

The necessary steps for Ohio folks to take in order to avail themselves of our laws and rural credit facilities, said Mr. Lincoln, are:

1. Organize uniform types of farmers sales companies, with a stock corporation to hold the physical property and have the business controlled by actual producers signed up on binding valid contracts to deliver their products.

2. Employ the highest type of expert to handle the business.

3. Have an effective field service to keep producers informed and to instruct the managers.

4. Finance the organizations properly, with binding producer contracts under a valid law we can secure adequate credit to manage this vast business from land banks and other governmental agencies declared Mr. Lincoln.

He predicted that the time would come soon when all the important commodities would be organized on the producers contract basis similar to the dairy contract now in force in Greene and surrounding counties.

HOLD DEMONSTRATION

A fireless cooker demonstration will be held at Beavercreek High School Tuesday afternoon. Women of the township are invited to attend the meeting.

A similar demonstration will be held in Xenia township the meeting not having been held.

WHEAT CROP IS GOOD LOCAL AGENT AVERS

A few wheat fields in Greene County have been "opened" the first two or three rounds of the binder having been driven and in a few days wheat cutting will be underway in many sections.

The majority of the wheat now is too green for harvesting.

The wheat crop is a good one this year, according to farmers, and if the price reaches the proper level, will be sold at a profit by farmers.

FARMERS ARRANGING FOR SPECIAL MEETING IN COLUMBUS IN JULY

A special mid-summer meeting of farmers and farm bureau members from all parts of Ohio will be held in Columbus. The announcement of this meeting was made by officials of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, following the meeting of the Federation's executive committee in Columbus last week. Tentative dates set are July 23 and 24.

Everyone of the 88 county farm bureaus will be asked to send one or more representatives to this meeting according to the announcement. The gathering is called because of the rapid development of the co-operative marketing program and other projects of the Federation and will be held to get the assistance of farmers in all parts of the state in making plans for future co-operative effort.

Among the subjects to be discussed at the coming meeting are marketing contracts for producers organization of co-operative marketing associations under the new co-operative law, development of plans for the use of credit through the Federal loan system, and affiliation of co-operative marketing groups and farm bureaus.

W. B. Bryson, president of the Greene County Farm Bureau, Geo. W. Glass, vice president and other Farm Bureau officials will probably attend the meeting.

WHEN FARMING PAYS

An Analysis of the Economic, Political and Social Conditions Which Make Farming Profitable

By Leonard P. Bennett

The Fourth of July is usually one day in the midst of a busy season which the farmer takes off. Ball games, greased pigs, three-legged races, and fireworks relieve the monotony of daily toil in the fields. Fourth of July is celebrated not simply because the colonies declared their independence on that date, but also because people periodically need a day of rest and relaxation. The hand worker needs variation and diversion as well as the brain worker. The farmer works both with his hand and his brain and has the more reason to celebrate the "glorious" Fourth.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that Americans consumed four billion bottles of soft drinks last year. One large bottling concern disposes of 150,000 to 175,000 bottles per day. Many soft drink manufacturers, who started buoyantly after the prohibition law went into effect, have succumbed during the past few years, largely because their special drinks were of a very inferior character. Some are prospering. It is to be hoped that the country will some day find its soft drinks as palatable, refreshing and revivifying as a large element has found spirituous liquors.

ROAD MATERIALS

The popularity of the various types of road material used in this country is indicated by the following percentages for Federal aid roads:

Gravel, 39.1 per cent.
Graded and drained, 20.6 per cent.
Cement concrete, 18.3 per cent.
Sand clay, 10.8 per cent.
Bituminous macadam, 4.0 per cent.
Bituminous concrete, 3.1 per cent.

Water-bound macadam, 2.7 per cent.
Brick, 1.4 per cent.

The figures are fairly representative, as 25,000 miles of Federal-aid roads are in use, but complete figures would doubtless show higher percentages of the lower type roads.

The Michigan farmer swears by a well built gravel road, while in every state the dirt road, properly graded and drained, is found highly satisfactory except when drought is so prolonged as to cause a heavy accumulation of dust or when wet weather turns the road into mud.

The hard-surfaced, all weather road is the road of the future. Cement concrete has made some excellent roads. A tar preparation as binding and covering vastly improves a crushed stone road. The older type of macadam road is falling into disuse because of the chuck holes which form in it and the effect of coarse, sharp stone on rubber tires.

The future conceivably may bring some new road building materials and a decided improvement in road construction. Durability is sure to increase, and perhaps cost of construction will decrease. Cost of maintenance will decrease with an increase in serviceability.

TILLERS OF THE SOIL

Half of the world's workers till the soil, according to figures of the department of Agriculture. These figures apply to female workers, as well as male, but do not include the large agricultural populations, of Russia, China, Serbia, Hungary, Argentine and Brazil.

SUGGEST NEW WAY TO CONSTRUCT FIRELESS COCKERS AT HOME

What is said to be a cheaper and better way to make fireless cookers at home has been developed by farm wives in Champaign County. Instead of using wooden boxes for the outside container, both the outer and inner container are made of lard tins.

For the outer holder, use a 50-pound tin; for the inner, a 25-pound tin. The second is placed in the first and the space between packed tightly with excelsior, paper scraps, ground cork, or a similar insulating material.

Then the cooker is taken to a tinner and a tin "collar" is soldered on to cover the insulating material between the big and little buckets. A handy man on a farm with a well equipped shop can do this as well as a tinner can.

The idea developed in Champaign County during progress there of the fireless cooker project, by which the state agricultural extension service is helping spread home-made cookers to farmsteads all over the state. C. R. Shumway agricultural agent in this county, developed another new idea when instead of making the usual "pillow" to fit under the cover at the top of the cooker, he simply cut an inch board the proper size and shape and used that.

The board "pillow" seems to hold in the heat as well as one of cloth, says Geneva M. Bane, specialist in home management at the Ohio State University, who is running the fireless cooker popularization project. And, she adds it is more sanitary.

Such a cooker costs less than $1.50 even when you have to buy the lard tins.

POULTRY PRODUCERS SEEKING TO MARKET PRODUCT IN NEW WAY

Formation of the "Ohio Co-operative Dairy Poultry Producers", as non-profit membership association, has been recommended by a special committee of poultry producers appointed by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. The new association is recommended as a co-operatives sales agency to serve poultry and egg producers of the state in getting their products to market through co-operative channels. It will probably be formed under Ohio's new co-operative marketing law, which takes effect next month.

While complete plans have not yet been made for the formation of the association a number of recommendations as to method of operation have been made by the committee. The consignment system of handling eggs and poultry is favored. Strict grading of eggs, and packing according to these grades is strongly urged. It is expected that the eggs from local association of producers over the state will be gathered at convenient shipping points and graded by an expert grader before sale.

The contract system between the individual producer and the sales agency will probably be used. Among the provisions which are to be put in, are that only fertile eggs will be sold through the co-operative during warm weather. All eggs going through the co-operative sales agency must be clean, unwashed eggs, collected twice daily and kept in a cool place. A penalty is suggested for breaking provisions of the contract.

A special group from the committee is now working on plans for organization of the association and preparing constitution and form of contract. The association is being formed so that it may be affiliated with the co-operative efforts of poultry producers of states adjoining Ohio, or those who are using the same markets. It follows general plans outlined at a recent national conference held in Chicago.

Plans of Greene County Farm Bureau officials, concerning the marketing of eggs are as yet vague but something definite will be outlined in the near future, according to County Agent Prince.

SWAT THE ROOSTER IN JUNE SAY EXPERTS IN POULTRY RAISING

As soon as the thermometer crawls above the 70-mark, fertile eggs begin to incubate, and at temperatures between 80 and 100 degrees they deteriorate rapidly. Infertile eggs keep far better in warm weather, and on practically every large poultry farm it is now common practice to swat the rooster late in June, or early in July, and to market infertile eggs.

This is just as good practice for the farmer with a few chickens as for the large poultry-raiser who has thousands, continue poultrymen at the Ohio State University, and egg dealers are echoing the thought. A rooster in the summer makes a fine Sunday dinner, they say, while alive and strutting, it is worse than useless.

If you have some roosters that look exceptionally good, so good that you want to keep them as breeders for the following year, then the thing to do is to confine them separately away from the flock of layers. Poultry scientists long ago found that the male bird has no influence on the number of eggs a hen will lay, but merely makes these eggs fertile.
